LIFT FOR LIFE GYM

Dear Friends,

We welcome you to the 21st Annual St. Louis Microfest! The event has grown immeasurably since we started 21 years ago and we couldn't do it without the support from all of you.

Since 1988, Lift for Life Gym has worked with inner-city youth, ages 8 – 18, to lay a strong foundation for success in school and in life. Located in North St. Louis, the gym currently helps over 400 youth each year to strengthen their bodies, enrich their minds, and learn to make positive life choices. The safe, enriching environment is made possible through donations and fundraising events like Microfest.

I would like to acknowledge our staff, Board of Directors, committee members, event sponsors, breweries, and event volunteers for their time, efforts, and continued support. They have helped Microfest grow over the years which in turn has helped shape the lives of our gym youth and provided a brighter future for them.

Be sure to explore every area of our festival as it offers more and more enjoyment for our event attendees each year including live music, food vendors, restaurant and brewery demonstrations, and of course a variety of beers to taste. Have a wonderful time and please remember to be safe and drink responsibly.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Joe Miller". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Joe" being more prominent than the last name "Miller".

SPACESHIP

6:00 – 7:30 p.m.

SpaceShip is an intergalactic musical outfit comprised of sentient beings who have manifested on planet Earth to bring about mind expanding vibrational rhythms and tonal contemplations. They vibrate within frequencies that resonate within the spectrums of molecular jazz fusion and nebular space funk.

The ship is manned by a group of local St. Louis musicians: Ryan Benthall (keys), Kyle Allen (trumpet), Ini-Obong Essien (saxophone), Jake Zengerling (bass), and Stephen Haake (drums). The live experience consists of interplay with improvisation and modern jazz/funk arrangements. A show always dedicated to bringing the audience something new and thought provoking.

SLIGHTLY JADED

Slightly Jaded is a rock/dance band that's heavy on the rock. It was put together in 2013 by guitarist Corey Nelson (Thunderhead, Broken English) along with original members- singer Amy Jordan (Platinum Rock Legends, Queenormous) and bassist George Whitlow (Thunderhead, Broken English, Loudmouth Soup). Drummer Stephen Haake (SpaceShip, Medallion, Matt McCallie Orchestra, Hoodat B, Jeff Riley Jazz Suite, St. Louis Big Band) joined the band in fall 2015 rounding out the current lineup.

Session II: 1:00 pm – 5:00 pm

MELISSA NEELS BAND

The Melissa Neels Band is the perfect blend of high energy blues mixed with a bit of rock. She covers many artists in the blues genre from B.B. King to Stevie Ray Vaughn, from Bonnie Raitt to Susan Tedeschi. Their repertoire has something to offer everyone. The Melissa Neels Band all original cd called “Shine” features a mix of blues and rock. From the rollicking “Norma Lee” about her grandma, Allman Brothers influenced, “Broadway” or the soulful title cut “Shine” any fan of the blues can appreciate. You can purchase “Shine” online at CD Baby, iTunes, or at one of her live shows.

Melissa Neels is the lead vocalist and lead guitarist. She is backed up by a group of talented and seasoned musicians. Featuring Matt Mc Cauley on keys, Bud Rager on drums, and Buck Buckler on bass and they will give you a show you’ll never forget. Check them out at melissaneels.net, stlblues.net, YouTube, and Facebook.

STEVEN WOOLLEY

6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

FACING INFAMY

8:00 p.m. -10:00 p.m.

Facing Infamy is a five piece alternative rock band with pop punk and post hardcore roots, a focus on energetic stage performances, and a strong motivation to derive meaningful fan relationships. We came together in the summer of 2013 from all walks of life and different musical backgrounds. The brand of musicians that form this St. Louis band are no stranger to the type of rejection that comes from being kicked out, told we weren't good enough, or given a lack of support. Our drive to face the infamous perils of rejection motivated us to create Facing Infamy; a band that stands out in more ways than musical technicality and the mainstream rock scene.

Our hard work and dedication has helped us grow by leaps and bounds, and has enabled us to play with national touring acts such as Siverstein, Escape the Fate, Pop Evil, PVRIS, And Red. We even achieved a highly sought after slot to play Pointfest in 2014. The pride we take from being a small St. Louis band who was doubted from the beginning to achieve such high goals, proves that no matter where you start, you should always aim high.

EVIL TWIN BREWING

The brainchild of multi-talented beer aficionado Jeppe Jarnit-Bjergso, this small Danish gypsy brewing outfit commenced operations in the summer of 2010. In its first three years on the scene, the Evil Twin has unleashed a mind-boggling 100+ new beers for commercial release, and they've done so without they're own brewery, using space from their friends wherever and whenever they can get. An imperial black & tan made in Scotland, check. An imperial IPA aged in Chardonnay barrels brewed in Holland, check. A belgian-style strong blond ale brewed on a remote island of Denmark, and then aged in 10 different high-end spirits barrels from around the world, check. Indeed, there is virtually nothing Evil Twin hasn't attempted. But more impressive still is that there is exceedingly little that Evil Twin hasn't perfected. The culmination of the accolades no doubt reached its current pinnacle this year, when Evil Twin Brewing achieved the rank of 10th best brewer in the world (and top non-U.S. brewer in the world) according to Ratebeer's annual list.

All the brewing equipment was transferred down the road to South 7th Street, where Hermitage is today. Hermitage soon added a bottling line, complete with disco ball and audio of ABBA's greatest hits, which automatically starts when the bottling line is turned on. In 2011, Hermitage took four Gold Medals at the California State Commercial Craft Brewers Competition. Celebrator Beer News awarded One Door Quadrupel with four out of five stars in 2011, and Hoptopia DIPA four out of five stars in 2012. As the new branch of Tied House Brewing, Hermitage is happy to be a part of such a long legacy of great brewers and their award-winning beers.

JOLLY PUMPKIN ARTISANAL ALES

The name bubbled forth years ago on a warm spring afternoon. It was one of those rare sunny March Michigan days, the kind that seems much warmer than March really has any right to be. Small piles of snow still dotted the yard as my wife and I sat on the patio in our shirtsleeves. Sipping beers and enjoying the sun on our faces after the long dark, cold Michigan winter. After firming up our business plan for months, the dream had finally evolved enough to need a name. So we sat, pen and paper in hand, brainstorming, smiling and laughing.

Many great names came forth that afternoon, but as the weeks passed, and spring finally sprung, the name that always made us smile was Jolly Pumpkin. It encompassed everything we wanted to express about our brewery. Fun and quirky, all that needed adding were the last two words; "Artisan Ales", the description of the brewery's products and mission; The creation of fantastic beers of truly outstanding artisan quality. Maintaining traditional small scale production, keeping beer a beverage of both outstanding complexity and simplicity, this would be our laudable goal. Complexity of flavor, simplicity of ingredient and process. This duality was perfectly balanced in the name. Simple and complex. Complex yet simple.

MARK TWAIN BREWERY

Many craft breweries have distinguished themselves by creating bold beers that push the boundaries of traditional style concepts. These breweries have focused on the craft beer enthusiast as their target demographic; people who are highly educated in "beer flavors" and are constantly searching for the next beer they haven't yet tried. While this demographic is important to all craft breweries, Mark Twain Brewery at The Moses Bates Public House will focus on a wider audience by brewing for all types of beer drinkers and hopefully provide some education about the process along the way. This will be accomplished with the use of recipes rooted in historic styles, high quality ingredients; and an inviting, friendly environment for patrons of all ages, sexes, creeds and levels of beer knowledge. By shaping our patron's experience they will learn, as Mark Twain phrased, to "...recognize that there are no trivial occurrences in life if we get the right focus on them."

NEW BELGIUM BREWING

1989. Belgium. Boy on bike. (OK, make that a young man of 32). As our aspiring young homebrewer rides his mountain bike with "fat tires" through European villages famous for beer, New Belgium Brewing Company was but a glimmer in his eye. Or basement. For Jeff Lebesch would return to Fort Collins, Colorado with a handful of ingredients and an imagination full of recipes. And then there was beer. Jeff's first two basement-brewed creations? A brown dubbel with earthy undertones named Abbey and a remarkably well-balanced amber he named Fat Tire. To say the rest was history would be to overlook his wife's involvement. Kim Jordan was New Belgium's first bottler, sales rep, distributor, marketer and financial planner. And now, she's our CEO.

RED STONE MEADERY

David Myers, known as 'Chairman of the Mead', founder of Redstone Meadery, is a romantic and wants to see mead once again enjoying the glory days of yesteryear. He started the Boulder, Colorado company with the 'natural philosophy' that he produce the highest quality honey wine on the market. Because of this 'philosophy of mead', Redstone does not cork (to avoid oxidation) but instead uses swing top bottles. This ensures the mead will not breathe while cellaring plus offers a much longer shelf life once the bottle has been opened. In keeping with the 'natural' approach, Redstone does not add any sulfites, a known allergen, as honey is it's own natural preservative. Redstone only pasteurizes the must (unfermented mead) and never boils. The company strives to feature the flavors of the fermentable as much as possible.

SMALL TOWN BREWERY

My great-great-grandfather from the 1600s was the captain of a ship in England. He was also a bit of a gambler. As legend has it, he won a brewery during a high-stakes card game, which led him to start crafting his own beers. He began brewing beer on the ships he sailed. This allowed him to travel further than other vessels because beer stayed fresh during long journeys. The story goes that his beer was even consumed on a fleet of ships he commanded that transported some of the earliest settlers to America.

Growing up, I had never heard the complete story about my great-great-grandfather until I expressed an interest in making my own beer. When I told my mom that I planned to open a brewery, she finally revealed my family’s beer making history and why brewing was “in my blood.” Using some of my great-great-grandfather’s recipes as inspiration, I founded Small Town Brewery. At Small Town, our goal is to honor my family’s beer making tradition by creating specialty beers with unique and flavorful ingredients.
